

Kasuma is a board-certified Psychiatric Behavioral Health Nurse Practitioner who currently resides in Texas. She attended the City University of New York, College of Staten Island where she earned her bachelor's degree in nursing. She then completed her Master of Science in Nursing at Walden University in Minneapolis. Kasuma is a member of the Psychiatric Advanced Practice Nurses of Houston and currently serves as secretary. She is also a member of the Neuroscience Educational Institute and says she loves learning and attending conferences. Kasuma is married with four boys and as a soccer mom, she loves taking her boys to soccer games and cheering them on. In her spare time, she enjoys traveling, cooking, and dancing. She also loves spending time with her family and watching movies or going to concerts. She also loves helping people in her community and even teaches Sunday school on the weekends. She is also a member of the TKP health team, a church-based organization that serves the community by providing screenings and distributing food and Christmas toys.